Vandenberg Hits Farm Bill; Nears Action In Senate

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) denounced the administration farm bill as a "legislative jig saw puzzle" today while the senate approached final action on the measure.

Not five senators can explain it to their colleagues, Vandenberg said.

"Compulsory restriction of crops will be matched by a compulsory increase in agricultural headstamps," he asserted. "The country will swarm with a new army of officious payroll bureaucrats enforcing the most gigantic regimentation ever attempted since the days of Russia."

Before the senate, after nearly three months of vigorous argument, was a conference report on the bill, which reconciled into one measure the conflicting bills passed earlier by the two houses. The report had been approved by the house. Senate adoption meant it would go to the White House.

Preliminary to final action, the senate settled a controversy that has run throughout the history of the bill: whether to prevent farmers from going into the dairying or cattle raising business on land retired from the production of major crops. Members from cattle and dairy states had clamored for such a provision.

The restriction was included in the original bills passed by both houses, but was missing when the conference report came in. In its place was a provision that farmers could engage in "normal" dairying. The report was immediately challenged on the ground that the conferees had violated the rules of Congress by the exclusion of language approved by both branches.

Senator Schwelb (D-Wash.) entered a point of order against the conference report. After much spirited discussion Vice-President Garner overruled it. Senator Duffy (D-Wis.) appealed the decision, and the senate voted down the dairy and cattle state senators, 48 to 31.

Vandenberg attacked argument that "any farm bill is better than no farm bill at all." That, he said, was a "selfish philosophy." "All innovation is not progress," he added.

He said that the manner in which the bill would be administered by the agriculture department was "effectually concealed in 60,000 bewildering words."

Hope for a final vote today faded when the speaker continued. Finally, Senator Barkley (D-Ky.) the democratic leader, proposed and obtained unanimous consent that the vote be taken no later than 2:30 p. m. C. S. T. Monday. The senate then adjourned until Monday.

GEORGE F. GETZ DIES AT MIAMI BEACH, FLORIDA

Multi-Millionaire Chicagoan Famous Sports Promoter

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Death of George F. Getz, multi-millionaire Chicago sportsman in Miami, Fla., today, removed the man who shared with Tex Rickard the thrill of promoting the most famous fight in history, the second battle between Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey in Soldier Field that balmy night of September, 1927.

That battle drew a record throng of about 135,000 spectators, with a gate of $2,558,660.

Getz, tall, gray-haired sportsman, came in hand, directed a swirling crowd at the ringside section in his role as nominal promoter, serving as such to assist his friend, Rickard, who was unable to get a promoter's license because he was not a resident of Illinois.

Getz served as a member of the Illinois State Athletic Commission for nine years, through both Republican and Democratic administrations. He advocated many helpful measures for the betterment of the sport.

Getz individually was responsible for the disbarment of King Levinsky, Chicago heavyweight, from Illinois rings after his poor showing against Joe Louis at Comiskey park in 1936.

Henderson, Ky., Feb. 11.—(AP)—The body of George Getz, retired millionaire coal operator, who died today at Miami Beach, Fla., will be brought here for burial relatives said.

Democratic Boom For Igoe Endorsed By Ray Edmundson

State House Democrats Hear New Rumors About Enlarged Primary Field

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 11.—(AP)—The Democratic Senatorial body for Michigan and Igoe was endorsed today by Ray Edmundson, who acted in his triple role as State President of the United Mine Workers, Regional Director of the C.I.O. and State Chairman of Labor's Non-Partisan League.

While state house Democrats heard new rumors about an enlarged primary field, Edmundson asked Igoe to announce his candidacy and said labor has "no specific interest" in the selection of Speaker Louis E. Lewis of Christopher as the Horner administration's choice for State Treasurer.

Igoe, Federal Prosecutor at Chicago, promised there he would make a statement tomorrow. His supporters have predicted he would be backed by the Kelly-Nash Democratic organization, announced Congressman Scott W. Lucas the Horner candidate, and Senator William H. Dieterich.

With Senator Dieterich and Lucas already in the race and Igoe expected to enter, the politicians around the state house roundtable were puzzled by widespread rumors that John P. Devine of Dixon, former speaker, and Thomas J. Courtney, State's Attorney at Chicago, might also be candidates.

Reformatory Riot Is Ended Quickly

Concord, Mass., Feb. 11.—(AP)—A disturbance of 600 inmates of the state reformatory, who refused to return to their cells from the institution yard, was put down quickly today by state police and reformatory guards.

Superintendent Michael J. Dee talked the prisoners into ending their disturbance and marching to their cells quietly. He said the trouble started as the afternoon recreation hour ended at 4 p. m.

Dee said none attempted to break out of the reformatory and no one was injured.

Arthur T. Lyman, Commissioner of Corrections, who hurried to the reformatory from Boston, said there were three reasons for the outbreak, the principal one being a protest against food.

An academy spokesman said the number was "about average," and 2,122 remain on the rolls.

CONGRESSMEN ASK FOR NAVAL DEFENSE PLAN

Would Bind U. S. To "Non-Aggression" Navy Policy

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)—A movement to bind the United States to a policy of "non-aggression" but to maintain a navy big enough to defend both coasts and all American possessions developed today in the House Naval Committee.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) informed the committee he would attempt to write this policy into the pending $800,000,000 fleet expansion bill.

The representative said his proposal was an answer to those who charged the naval expansion program was based on a policy of aggression. He insisted his declaration of policy would not authorize any greater increase in the navy than the one under consideration, although high-ranking navy officers have testified the fleet would be incapable, even with the projected 30 percent increase, of defending both coast lines simultaneously.

President Roosevelt intimated at his press conference today he had nothing to tell Congress now about foreign affairs. He declined to answer a reporter's question as to whether he intended to "ratify" the request of Senator Johnson (R-Calif.) for more information on foreign policy.

AMERICAN MISSIONARY FOUND DEAD IN CHINA

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The state department announced today Father Gerard A. Donovan, a Maryknoll missionary from Pittsburgh, Pa., had been found dead in Huijien, Hsien, China. The priest was kidnapped by Chinese on Oct. 5 for ransom from the native city of Puchun.

American Consul John Davies, Jr., at Mukden, advised the department Father Donovan's death had been officially reported by Mukden gendarmes.

Elmer Dower and Everett Libby of Murrayville were local callers yesterday.

American In A Rebel Prison

Gibraltar, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Captain J. A. Lewis, skipper of the American tanker Nantucket Chief, said tonight he was beaten with a rubber hose every day of the 16 days he and his crew were held prisoners by Spanish insurgents at Palma, Mallorca.

The Nantucket Chief arrived here today and prepared to sail for the United States tonight.

"My body was a mass of bruises," Lewis said in an interview after making a full report of his experiences to the American consul. The commander of the American destroyer Manley accompanied him to the consulate.

In an emaciated condition after the ordeal, the skipper said: "I am the happiest person in the world. I am lucky to have escaped a firing squad."

He said he had been told while in jail he had been sentenced to 17 years and four months imprisonment "for trading with Spanish Reds."

Fearing outbreak of new gangland warfare, Chicago police turned to the remnants of Al Capone's gang in an effort to find the three gunmen who killed Sam Costello, left, reputed head of a rich slot machine racket. The three killers entered the Chicago Heights bakery pictured above, shook hands with Costello and then opened fire, killing Costello and wounding three of his cohorts. A heavy police guard was stationed at the hospital where the wounded men were taken after 18 men, believed members of Costello's gang, gathered in the corridor. Courtney charged recently that members of Capone's mob still conduct his illegal businesses. Capone is seriously ill in Alcatraz prison.

FLOOD WATERS, STORM RAGING IN CALIFORNIA

16-Day Rain Breaks Record As Winds Hit New High

San Francisco, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Flood waters spread steadily across California lowlands tonight as streams began pouring over their banks. The runoff from a record-breaking 16-day rain, and the storm continued with renewed vigor.

River bottom areas along a 400-mile stretch from Red Bluff in northern California, to Fresno were inundated or subject to flood conditions.

High winds and rain torrents struck southern California as the storm area expanded. The southern part of the state until today had felt only the fringe of the disturbance.

R. C. Schaefer, regional director of the Red Cross, announced his rescue crews had assisted 300 families subjected to danger in the Hagginwood area, near Sacramento.

Reaching the 27-foot level, 12 inches below flood stage, the Sacramento began rising at Colusa during the afternoon when water began backing up in the overtaxed by-passes there.

Farmers, WPA and COO workers worked strenuously to strengthen levees and patrolled the bulwarks. Women in overalls worked beside the men. The rich farm land east of Colusa became a great sheet of water.

A 48-mile wind felled trees, power lines and sign boards in the Los Angeles area and temporarily stopped navigation in the harbor. Heavy rain accompanied the blow and numerous streets were flooded.

WITHOUT A VERDICT
Quincy, Ill., Feb. 11.—(AP)—A jury trying six barbers on charges of assault was discharged late today after deliberating 26 hours without reaching a verdict. The defendants were accused of beating Lee Ballard in his barber shop last June 28 because he refused to sign a price contract. Prosecutor Mark Pennick indicated the case would be retried.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Voters will go to the polls here tomorrow to decide whether to scrap the "Des Moines plan" of commission city government for a city manager governed by an unsalaried five-man council.

City officials announced today 87,000 of Des Moines' 143,000 population are eligible to vote in tomorrow's special election and predicted possibly 30,000 to 35,000 votes would be cast.

Des Moines was the birth place 30 years ago of the commission form of five-man city council, including referendum and recall reforms.

POLICE ON THE JOB, EVEN CHASE 3 G-MEN
Baltimore, Feb. 11.—(AP)—State and county police, notified by a filling station operator that one of five men riding in a New York car carried a pistol, captured the five today at the end of a three-mile automobile chase on Washington boulevard.

Then they learned the five men were three G-men, led by Joseph A. Petrina, and two prisoners being taken to Washington. The police slammed apologies, the G-men complimented their alertness and proceeded.

Mrs. D. O. Shade and son Billy of Rushville were Friday shoppers in the city.

RUSSIANS DENY INCREASED WAR AID TO CHINESE

Fear They Will Become Involved In War With Japan

Shanghai, Feb. 12.—(Saturday)—(AP)—The Soviet Union has refused to increase her aid to China, according to reliable information, because of fear of becoming involved directly in the war with Japan.

Well-informed foreign sources said Russia had taken the stand she was in no position to take the risk of war with Japan singlehandedly.

(Munitions of war are flowing into China, however. Dispatches from Hongkong Friday said the United States freighter Michigan had unloaded an arms cargo, including bombs, ammunition and 12,000 cases of high explosives.)

(Previous estimates of customs officials at the British Crown Colony in south China said that enough munitions to last China for a year of war had been received at Hongkong and transhipped to Hankow, one of the temporary capitals in the interior.)

Authoritative foreign observers believe the Soviet Union is utilizing the Chinese-Japanese war as a laboratory for testing planes and other equipment.

It has also given a limited number of Russian soldiers opportunity to study under actual conditions of war Japanese equipment and tactics. These observers remark that, considering the smallness of Russia's losses, it was a worthwhile investment for the future.

The Russian government is understood to have placed no restrictions on Russian volunteers so long as they do not reach numbers that likely would embroil the Soviet Union directly.

Husband's Mission Mystery to Woman Jailed by Soviets

Mrs. Rubens Reveals She Went to Moscow at Behest Of Her Husband

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)—State department dispatches from Moscow today indicated Mrs. Ruth Marie Rubens, New York, under arrest on suspicion of spying, went to Moscow at her husband's behest, not knowing the purpose of her trip.

She told American Charge D'Affairs Loy W. Henderson and Second Secretary Angus I. Ward, who visited her yesterday in steel-rimmed Butyrskaya prison, her husband procured the passport under which she entered Russia as "Mrs. Ruth Norma Robinson."

She said she did not know how the Robinson passport was obtained, nor why her husband got it.

She said they had left New York under the name of Rubens and had traveled in transit under the same name. Her story indicated her husband, known also as Donald L. Robinson, gave her the passport just before they arrived at the Soviet frontier.

The interview between Mrs. Rubens and the American officials did not throw new light on the arrest itself. Two Russian officials and an interpreter were present and prevented the answering of any questions bearing on the official investigation, on the grounds the inquiry was not completed.

DES MOINES TO VOTE ON GOVERNMENT PLAN

Jury Gets Wright Case; Judge Tells Acquittal Terms

Los Angeles, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Superior Judge Ingall W. Bull today told the jury trying Paul A. Wright for killing his wife and best friend that if it finds he "was unconscious at the time of the act, you must acquit him."

He completed his instructions at 5:35 p. m. (7:35 p. m. Central Standard Time) after which the jurors went to dinner to begin deliberations at 8 p. m.

The defense had contended that from the time Wright came upon his wife and John Kimmel in what he testified was an abnormal embrace until he found himself standing over his fatally wounded victims with a pistol in his hand, he was in the state of an amnesia victim or a sleepwalker.

Judge Bull said if the jury found indications Wright might have forgotten details after the shooting that "any lapse of memory since the commission of the crime is no defense." He said the defendant is presumed to be conscious when he acts as if he were.

The court pointed out that under California law a person who commits an act "without being conscious thereof" is one of the several types held not legally responsible.

Premeditation, Judge Bull told the jurors, may be as rapid as successive thoughts of the mind. The state contends the slayings were deliberate and premeditated.

Five verdicts are possible, first degree murder, with the death penalty or life imprisonment; second degree murder, manslaughter or innocence. Wright has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

The defendant was described as "an individual who put himself above everybody else" as the state pounded away today at every argument in the former airport manager's defense that he was "unconscious" when he killed his wife and friend.

When Wright took a gun and shot Mrs. Wright and John Kimmel, Prosecutor S. Ernest Roll told the jury that he knew what he was doing and that the killings were "cold-blooded and premeditated."

"He said, 'I am the judge,' he said, 'I am the jury,' he said, 'I am the executioner,'" Roll declared. "But what kind of a trial did Mrs. Wright and Johnny Kimmel get? None."

"There are only two things to consider: The guilt or innocence of this defendant. It is the duty of us who represent the people to present the facts and if those facts warrant it, to ask the death penalty," Roll told the jury. Before he began his rebuttal argument this morning, the prosecutor said he would not demand that Wright be put to death in the lethal chamber.

Roll completed his arguments at 4:20 p. m. (6:20 p. m. central standard time) and shortly thereafter Superior Judge Ingall Bull began reading his instructions.

He expected to complete them and give the case to the jury within an hour.

Roll attacked Defense Counsel Jerry Giesler by implication when he said that Wright was two different persons while on the witness stand—"keen and alert in testifying for himself" and "slowed down" when he was under cross-examination. Giesler objected to this statement as well as another by Roll in which the prosecutor said Giesler had referred to a defense psychiatrist as "head and shoulders above three court-appointed alienists" when the trio was not present in the court room.

WILLIAM GREEN WARNS AGAINST FEDERAL POWER

Says Capital, Labor Can Unite Against Any Usurpation

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor asserted tonight "labor and capital have a common cause to protect against autocratic usurpation of power over their destiny by governmental agency."

"They must be alert against such 'fettering of freedom,'" he said, "whether it be the National Labor Relations Board in administering the national labor relations act, or any proposed board to substitute itself for the parties in determining the wages for labor's hire and the terms and conditions under which labor and capital shall function together."

"Industry is now in a state of convalescence," he said in his prepared address. "It needs no severe nostrums. It needs the common sense of good nursing."

"It needs the joint help of labor, of management, of capital, of consumers, of all citizens, and of the government, that is our government, if we are to go ahead for the common good."

He warned labor and capital to "guard against a fettering of freedom even when friendly hands offer a kindly bondage."

Accused Slayer Of Ira Hanna Testifies

Lawrenceville, Ill., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Clarence Thompson, 28, charged with the slaying last October of Ira Hanna, farmer of Noble, Ill., declared today from the witness stand that "God in heaven knows I'm innocent."

The young West Liberty, Ill., farmer and WPA worker had been implicated in the killing by the state's chief witness, Thomas Pantry, 54, also of West Liberty, who has pleaded guilty of the murder.

Completing the testimony he began yesterday, Pantry, a Spanish-American War veteran, repeated his story of stabbing Hanna to death with a corn knife while Thompson held Hanna's arms.

The defendant, taking the stand as soon as the state closed its case, denied that he had any part in the slaying. The prosecution had charged robbery was the motive.

Books Should Be Read

The National Youth Administration in cooperation with the Jacksonville Y. M. C. A. announced yesterday a Share-A-Book-Program, to be held during Feb. 14 to 22. Its purpose is to collect books which are not being used, repair them, and circulate them to institutions and districts where there is a lack of reading material. The program undoubtedly will meet with ready response by the public, as most persons are generous with surplus reading material, whether it be books or magazines.

There is nothing any more worthless than a book or magazine which has been discarded by the owner, and relegated to the attic. Books hidden away in boxes or closets benefit no one. They must have readers to serve their purpose in the world.

The N. Y. A. is asking for books owners do not want, not for choice volumes which they wish to preserve and use. In Jacksonville homes there are probably thousands of old books and periodicals which would never be read again by their owners. Reading matter of this kind should be put to the best possible use. The Share-A-Book program provides a practical means of putting them into circulation again, that they may serve the purpose for which they were written.

If you have books or magazines that you no longer care for, the N. Y. A. and Y. M. C. A. would like to have them. Their program is one that should spread happiness and promote education among people who might otherwise have to go without reading material.

The Sale Tax Grows

According to the report of State Treasurer John C. Martin, the State of Illinois collected $8,225,036 as occupational tax for the month of January. This is a high mark for monthly totals for this tax, and it indicates a gradually rising tide of this form of taxation. At the January rate, the collections of sales tax during the year would reach about $100,700,000 for the year.

When the tax was first imposed the yearly total was estimated at about $75,000,000. This form of taxation was enacted to take the place of the real estate taxes for state purposes. The property tax was only $25,000,000, hence the sales tax rules from three to four times as much. However, one cent for each three cents collected as sales tax goes to furnish the state's quota of direct relief funds. The sales tax is still considered a "painful" tax, and no move to repeal it would probably get far at this time. Citizens would consider themselves lucky during the next few years if the sales tax were even to be reduced.

It Wasn't Greenfield

While citizens of Greenfield and community slept peacefully Thursday night, the radio system of the Illinois Highway police department broadcast the statement that a car believed to be one in which prisoners escaped from the Michigan, Indiana state prison, was found abandoned near there.

Illinois State Highway police officials were reported to have set out for Greenfield post-haste. But it was not long until a correction went out over the same stations—the fugitive's car was found near Wheatfield, Indiana, instead of near Greenfield, Illinois. It was just an error of a few hundred miles, but Illinois law enforcement officials were jumping into action when they were flagged down.

The Greenfield telephone operator I hereby announce myself as Democratic candidate for Alderman, Third Ward. Primary April 19.

expressed surprise when the Journal and Courier asked her if there was any excitement down that way. Greenfield wasn't aware of the brief and innocent part it was playing in the search for five escaped prisoners.

The Feed Bag Is Out

Jacksonville Lodge No. 542, B. P. O. E., has built high hopes for entertaining the Elks' state convention in June. An invitation has been extended by a delegation of local Elks who carried the sentiment of the entire membership—the feed bag—been hung out, and they're hoping it will attract the antlered tribe from throughout the state.

Local Elks presented an informal invitation to State President Bryan Caffery of Jerseyville, to hold the state convention in Jacksonville. The decision of high officials in the lodge may not be known for some little time. But Jacksonville Elks are steamed up over the prospects—they're already planning in their minds the big time that will be in store for all.

The Elks is a great organization, and Jacksonville is a fine town. They will have a dandy time together, if the state convalesce comes here.

Strictly A Party Matter

Precinct committeemen of the political parties draw no salary, and they don't have offices, secretaries or other accoutrements like the "big fellows," but never-the-less they pack a mighty wallop in their own territory. Precinct committeemen are the drive-shafts of the political systems—they must see that the wheels go round at home. Unless a committeeman is active, alert and keeps his co-workers steamed up, his territory is likely to reflect it on election day.

This is the year when committeemen are elected by both Democrats and Republicans. Party voters in each precinct make their choice of leaders at the spring primary. Piling for these positions began yesterday at the county clerk's office, with indications pointing to much interest on both sides. Candidates for precinct committeemen have until March 3 to file petitions.

Harmony is a nice thing to have in political organizations, but things often get riled up when two or more gentlemen aspire to leadership in the same district. The job of electing committeemen brings members of the same parties together, rather than forces of the opposing parties. It thus evolves into a family affair, with both parties charged with the business of settling their own differences.

No doubt there will be some spirited precinct battles at the April primary, with leadership of the various voting units at stake. It will be friendly against friend, neighbor against neighbor, with the battle ground limited to a few city blocks, or a few square miles, if the precinct happens to be situated in the country. These precinct contests are like a cocktail before a big dinner. They give the voters an appetite for the main course to come later.

The "Falling Womacks"

Since evidence was uncovered in a federal court trial at East St. Louis, the public has learned that the "Falling Womacks" are not a circus tumbling troupe who worked for amusement of the public, but were an organized ring of fakers who worked the public for thousands of dollars in false accident claims. The trial, resulting in conviction of eight members of the family and one of their associates, revealed a racket that is said to be fairly prevalent in larger cities.

Federal Judge Fred L. Wham probably expressed the thoughts of most law-abiding citizens when he commented: "I didn't know there was anything like it in the world."

The technique used by the Womacks, both men and women, was simple. They would fake a fall from a street car, bus, or in front of a slow-moving automobile. In apparent pain, they were rushed to hospitals. Settlement in accident claims with insurance companies or individuals followed.

The Womacks were accused of carrying on this business over a period of several years. They did very well until Uncle Sam got curious and started an investigation. They were convicted on charges of using the mails to defraud, as much correspondence was carried on between them and insurance companies concerning claims.

John Womack, 62, head of the family, his wife, Bertha, and his daughter, Mrs. Mildred Felix, were given the heaviest sentences. All connected with the racket must spend from two to four years in penitentiaries.

There is enough misery in the world without faking it. The Womacks, by simulating injury, attempted to make a living. The penitentiary is the place for such leeches of society.

Count and Co-ed Is Given Yesterday to Junior High, Grades

High School Operetta Proves to Be Highly Entertaining; Main Show Next Week

"The Count and the Co-ed" given with colorful and typical scenes of college life by the Music clubs of High school, scored a marked success Friday morning when it was presented at the High school for the junior high and grade school pupils.

The operetta opened with the catchy song "College Days" and the sorority girls' stunt, which was cleverly given in the "Big Apple" style. It aroused the criticism of the chaparrone, Miss Mildred Rutherford, who protested that in her day the campus stunts were different. The chaparrone, with characteristic acting portrayed the part and introduced the propriety group of dancers.

The scenes center around Smooge Andrews, taken by Arthur Moxon, who is in love with the president's daughter, taken by Fran Capps, and his escapades, which cause him to impersonate the Count, whose expected visit on the campus is an event of great preparation on the part of the president, Mac Spaddin, Jack Roy, and his wife, Catherine Hardesty.

The group songs and the songs of the ocellite were well done; especially taking was the soda pop chorus and solo. The military drill in costume with the drum major tap dance was an outstanding feature, leading up to the style show in which the Count had the embarrassing part of choosing the Style Queen.

The cheer leader, John Clark, in a rousing manner led the students in a number of campus scenes during the demonstration for the Count, who finally declares his identity and is saved from disgrace by a donation of $50,000 from the real Count, whose visit has been delayed.

The acting and singing of the entire cast was well done and the music and comedy running through the entire performance, added greatly to the production. The main performances will be given next Thursday and Friday evening, Feb. 17-18.

The cast included:
Hamilton—Warren Smith.
Margaret—Clara Mae Strubinger.
Smooge Andrews—Arthur Moxon.
Polly, president's daughter—Fran Capps.
Glee Club Cheer Leader—John Clark.

Sleepy Freshman—John Self.
Chaparrone—Mildred Rutherford.
Popular Coed—Veta Mae Walker.
Dorothy Freshman—Mimi Walls.
President—Jack Roy.
President's Wife—Catherine Hardesty.

Force vs. Diplomacy

As a guest at recent exercises in a Parisian ju-jitsu school, Japan's Ambassador Sugimura demonstrated to the students that he has lost none of his expertise in the Japanese national sport whose basic principle is to "win by yielding." The athletic diplomat is pictured above, stilled in traditional judo costume, about to toss the instructor over his shoulder.

Pannwitt Ponders French Politics

Finds Them a Bit Puzzling and the French People Likewise Would Like to Know What it is All About — Observes Last French "Crises"

By FRED J. PANNWITT
Geneva, Switzerland, Jan. 23.—If I'm not mistaken, I mentioned once that French politics were complicated. That was when I first arrived in France; when I had the firm belief that with a little study and observation the complications would become less perplexing and that beneath them all would appear some sort of pattern.

But now, having just left France after witnessing one of the worst "crises" the French government has had for some time, I'm convinced that French politics are not complicated. They are just crazy.

The crisis was a good example of French politics at their best—and funniest. Premier Chautemps' government seemed to be progressing as smoothly as possible when suddenly it ran afoul of Communist opposition and fell.

There followed a week of scurrying around and frantic attempts to form a new government, but none of the men called by the president seemed able to rally any support. The Left parties called the Right parties all sorts of names and the Right parties came right back with worse names. The whole country seemed to be on the verge of civil war, at least.

Then, just as suddenly as the crisis had started, it was over. Chautemps was again in office with a reshuffled cabinet and everyone was so happy and united that only one vote was cast against the government in the Chamber of Deputies. The Communists, who had started the whole affair by withdrawing their support from the old Chautemps government, voted for the new government in spite of the fact that it was a little farther to the Right than the old. So now the new government can continue merrily on its way until there is another argument, which may come tomorrow, or may not come for a year.

During the whole period of the crisis, when the newspapers were filled with bad news about disagreements, the Bourse (Stock Exchange) was closed to keep the franc from falling, and pessimists were predicting everything from an armed uprising in Paris to a general European war, the people continued on their way as though nothing were happening. French people whom I met invariably dismissed the subject almost laughingly with a shrug. When I attempted to convince the manager of my hotel that his country was in danger, he pointed eloquently to the street and said, "But you don't see the people getting excited about it, do you? These crises happen all the time in France."

As a matter of fact, the only persons who were really worried about the situation were the foreigners who weren't used to such goings-on in their own countries. In spite of the lack of any formal government, the internal affairs of France kept right on. The dependable and permanent bureaucracy underlying the changeable cabinet went right on functioning, without any noticeable difference.

Looking at it from the outside, there were any number of things which really did look serious. The financial situation, for example. After a bad summer and fall, the franc had been rather stable for some time when gold again began to flow out of the country and the franc showed signs of weakness. When the crisis came, the Bourse was closed, everyone fully expected the bottom to fall right out of the franc. Even many of the French people who had seemed something in the wind had rushed to change their franc into dollars or pounds. But when the Bourse did open, the franc was stronger than it had been, and weakened only after several days.

Three-for-one Deal To Bolster Browns

Trade Vet Catcher to Indians for Three Men

St. Louis, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns bolstered their reputation as the American League's "David Harbors" today with their second three-for-one deal of the trading season.

They sent "rollicking Rolfe" Hemslie, veteran catcher whose play at times has ranked with that of the game's greatest backstops, to the Cleveland Indians for Catcher Billy Sullivan, infielder Roy Hughes and Pitcher Ed Cole.

William O. DeWitt, vice president of the Browns, announced the deal after a long distance telephone conversation with C. C. Slapnicka, general manager of the Indians, who is in Florida.

In their first three-for-one trade, the Browns obtained Pitcher Buck Newsom, Outfielder Buster Miller and Infielder Ralph Kress, all Boston Red Sox regulars, for Joe Vosmik, one of the American League's best hitters.

Hemslie, obtained by the Browns in 1933 after being waived out of the National League, saw little service last year. He had frequent brushes with the club's management for violating training rules and was disciplined several times.

Sullivan started his major league career in 1931. Hughes has played three years in Big League ball and the Browns expect him to be their regular second sacker. Cole, whose real name is Kiseluskas, has spent half a dozen years in the minors but has had other Big League tryouts. He was with Galveston in the Texas League last year.

CITES REASONS FOR SLOW-DOWN IN TRADE

New York, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Retail trade at leading centers of distribution this week averaged two to eight per cent above last week, but was unchanged to three per cent under the like week of 1937, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

"Progress of retail distribution has been hampered by the obstructions of spreading unemployment, payroll shrinkage and absence of seasonal feeling," said the credit agency.

Though more spring markets widened wholesale buying activity, 1937 volume was not approached, the agency added.

PRESSHog Prices Decline
With Bigger Supply

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(P)—Hog prices turned downward today as receipts expanded slightly, demonstrating the market's extreme sensitivity to supply conditions.

Hogs scaling 220 pounds or less were unchanged to 10 cents lower, the top falling to $8.85, but others, the top 15 to 25 cents. Late in the day some scaling more than 250 pounds showed declines of 25 to 35 cents.

The run was slightly larger than expected for the first time this week. There were indications, however, of improved consumer demand for pork, with best pork loins at wholesale advancing another 1 cent a pound to the best level in several weeks.

Cattle prices were unchanged to slightly lower in a slow, cleanup trade. Nothing prime was on sale, with only a few odd lot yearlings selling up to $8.50.

Fat lambs were steady to 15 cents higher, top rising to $7.75.

GRAIN REPORT

Trade was small, only 31,000 bushels being sold to shippers and 41,000 booked to arrive. Receipts were 66 cars. Domestic receipts at primary points totaled 561,000 bushels compared with 732,000 a week ago. Export sales of United States corn were estimated at 100,000 bushels.

Wheat was easy, with the basis firm. Receipts were 18 cars; shipping sales 16,000 bushels.

Oats were steady to 1 cent higher. Receipts were 17 cars; shipping sales 20,000 bushels.

Small Losses Hit
The Wheat Market

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(P)—With a double holiday starting tomorrow, wheat traders showed a pronounced disposition to keep to the sidelines today, and the market went fractionally downhill.

About the sole supporting influence for wheat values here was export purchasing of 400,000 bushels of North American wheat, partly Canadian. There was sharp notice taken that Australian shipments to overseas were much larger than either last week or a year ago.

Possibility of moisture relief for dry districts of United States winter crop territory was a factor that as well as increased supplies from Australia tended to bring about wheat price setbacks. One estimate figured Australia could export 17,500,000 bushels more wheat than at this time last year.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1-8 under yesterday's finish. May 94-3, July 90-1, corn unchanged to 1 up, May 89-60, July 61, oats unchanged to 1 off, rye 1-4 down, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents lower.

New York Stock Market

New York, Feb. 11.—(P)—Stock market leaders crawled through the slowest session in three years today and most were moderately lower at the close.

Transfers totaled 387,210 shares, the smallest volume for a 5-hour day since Feb. 15, 1935. It compared with 613,760 shares yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off 2 of a point at 43.8.

With tomorrow a holiday for the stock exchange, most traders remained in neutral territory.

There was little from Washington to sharpen either the buying or selling appetite and news from the business front, while not especially disturbing, lacked speculative inspiration. Unconfirmed reports of unrest in Germany, it was said, served mainly to promote uneasiness in bondrooms and was hardly considered a prime market influence.

Rail Bonds Persist
In Recovery Swing

Industrial and utility issues had no definite trend. U. S. governments, after early indecision, moved ahead for gains ranging to 8/32ds of a point.

In some relatively inactive carrier loans rally tendencies met no resistance and closing prices showed sizable gains. A few other thin markets were revealed through sharp losses.

The Associated Press averages of 20 rail bonds rose 3 of a point to 65 1/2, representing an even 5-point rise from the January low. The industrial average and utility averages each improved 1 of a point. Transactions totaled $6,340,125 against $6,722,325 yesterday.

Weakness in German government dollar loans was attributed by traders to rumors of political unrest in the Reich. Italian and Polish issues strengthened, while Cuban 5 1/2 lost ground on news the proposed public works debt liquidation plan met an executive veto.

For Love of Polly

By RACHEL MACK

Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
POLLY (Helen), heroine, attended in London when war breaks out.
JERRY WHITFIELD, hero; the Yankee who saves her through the war.
CABELL BANKS, privateer captain.

CHAPTER IX
When Jerry Whitfield opened his eyes he was not conscious of himself as a person but only as a cramped body and bruised head that ached intolerably.

It was only when he became aware of himself as a personality that surprise gripped him. This was Jerry Whitfield that ached sorely and lay in the darkness of a ship's hold. . . . Where ought Jerry Whitfield to be? What ought he to be doing? . . .

"Uniform and Crown," he groaned aloud. And then, "Polly—Polly Chelsey."

He arose to his knees and began to pound the planks above him, savagely and frantically.

A voice somewhere near in the blackness said, "Stop it, you fool. Don't scratch His Majesty's pretty sloop." The voice had a Yankee drawl, but it was Jerry's.

"Where are you?" Jerry asked.

"In Cabell Banks from Boston, Continent of America. We're definitely below decks on a big sloop named the Sunrise. British ship, I mean—or have you caught on?"

"God help me!" Jerry muttered. "I doubt if He does for a while yet. Lie down and think things over. You've got plenty of time."

JERRY lay down, heavily. To ease his throbbing head he put his right arm beneath it. "If you know how I got here," he muttered impatiently at his unseen companion, "then tell me and have done."

"You came rolled in a blanket," retorted Cabell Banks. "Very cozy. A couple of pressmen brought you on board an hour ago, and four marines stowed you down here. It happened after my bedtime, you might say. I'm not allowed on deck after sundown, so I didn't see what happened. But I've got ears. I gathered you were a choice deserter and had been picked up in a London street fight."

There was a long silence filled with labored thinking. Then Jerry's voice, heavy with the dialect of an outraged Yankee: "Deserter! Fight! There was no fight. I was hit on the head from behind and went out like a candle. I'd walked into a dark side street, like a fool, to help a woman."

"Ah, my unseen friend, my fellow countryman, how naive!" "If that's a French word," Jerry complained, "don't use it. I'm as good a sailor as ever hauled a rope or steered a course, but I'm not educated. . . . It appears you are."

"Yes and no," said Cabell Banks, and he could be heard shifting his position in the darkness. "I studied the classics at Harvard. Also the French language, mathematics, and astronomy. But I didn't learn how to shave with a razor or how to relish wormy ship biscuits. No, nor how to sleep without a mattress. It appears that while Brit-ain rules the seas, every young man about to take a voyage should master these subjects."

"You talk like a drunk man," Jerry stated.

"I'm not drunk, but low-spirited and glad to have an audience. I've had two days of my own company, if I calculate right."

"How did you get here?"

Destruction Made By Termites Is Discussed at Meet

Demonstration is Presented At Rotary Club Luncheon Here Friday

A sound picture showing how termites destroy approximately $50,000,000 worth of property annually, was exhibited at the weekly luncheon of the Jacksonville Rotary Club at the Junior Hotel Friday noon. Harry M. Jawlinski and Earl Rutledge of the termite company of Peoria, gave the demonstration. The program was in charge of Dr. A. L. Adams and D. C. Witz, co-chairmen of the February program committee.

Termites are the most destructive of all wood eating insects. They are sometimes referred to as "white ants" or "flying ants," but are in no manner related to the ant family. There are several types of termites but the subterranean termites are responsible for practically all the damage done in most states of this country.

They dwell in highly organized colonies beneath the surface of the ground. At the head of the colony reign a king and a queen, the reproductive pair. In each termite colony a small percentage of the young develop into potential reproductives. They grow wings and leave the parent in the spring, and often in the fall, in swarms to establish new colonies.

The termites tunnel their way thru the ground and build their tubes over either exposed or hidden surfaces until they make contact with a feeding supply of wood. In a building, supporting columns in the basement, sill beams, floor joists, floor boards, foot uprights, weather boards, and the under construction of steps and porches are favorite points of attack. If a damp condition is present, the likelihood of attack is increased.

The termites enter the wood, usually at an obscure point, and eat their way inside the grain. A thin outside wall of the wood is left untouched and, as the damage progresses, the piece becomes a riddled shell.

Scientists have discovered that the termites require a certain amount of moisture and after attacking the wood in buildings return to the ground for this moisture. A chemical has been discovered that will halt the termite. This chemical is injected into the supporting portions of the structure, destroying the termites.

Guests of the club Friday included John L. Davidson, Benton, Ill., Ben Rodhouse, of this city and Paul Hesser of Springfield.

Old Books Will Be Collected Here And Repaired by Youths

Reading Material Wanted By NYA and YMCA in Coming Campaign

The National Youth Administration, assisted by the Y.M.C.A., will conduct a Share-A-Book campaign in Jacksonville and community February 14 to 22, the public being asked to donate books which will be reconditioned if necessary by NYA labor, and distributed to institutions and districts not having libraries.

Joseph A. White of Springfield, area supervisor of NYA, was here yesterday to confer with Secretary A. D. Hermann of the "Y," concerning the campaign for old books.

"The NYA Share-A-Book program is a non-profit enterprise devoted simply to the goal of providing reading facilities for those who do not have access to free libraries," Mr. White said. "It should appeal to every individual in the district who has books or magazines which he has read or enjoyed but which will not be read by himself or members of his family."

Mr. White said that at the conclusion of the campaign, NYA youth will be set to work at renovating the reading material. Shortly thereafter the volumes will be turned over to the various institutions and agencies that are in need of books and magazines.

Secretary Hermann said he is sure the public will respond readily. Gray boys and girls will help with the local program.

Reading material will be assembled at the Y.M.C.A. building on West State street. Persons having reading material should call 178, the Y.M.C.A. office, and it will be sent for.

Geanetos Funeral To be Held Sunday

Services to be Conducted At Trinity Episcopal Church

Funeral services for Basil J. Geanetos, who passed away here early Friday morning, will be held Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at the Trinity Episcopal church here, in charge of Father John Amasko of Decatur. Burial will be in Jacksonville cemetery.

Mr. Geanetos, who came to this country from Greece when 30 years old, died at 12:15 a. m. Friday in Passavant hospital where he had been a patient for a week. Mr. Geanetos fell down the icy steps at his home Dec. 28 and suffered an injury which necessitated an operation Feb. 4. Cardiac decompensation and hypostatic pneumonia followed the operation, and death came this morning.

Mr. Geanetos, proprietor of a confectionery here for thirty years, operated a store at the corner of the square and East Morgan street until recently when the building was demolished to make way for the new Kresge building. He opened a newer and finer store on East State street immediately.

Mr. Geanetos was born in Greece May 5, 1873. He came to this country and was married to Besse Chakos in 1911. She survives him along with four children, George, a student at the University of Illinois, Katherine, Athens, and Mrs. Dennis Harkalis of Decatur. A cousin, John Koonas, was in business with him here.

Mr. Geanetos first located in Chicago where he operated a store, and then moved to Kewanee. He came to Jacksonville about thirty years ago. Coroner E. O. Sample conducted an inquest at the Gillham funeral home where the remains will be until Sunday. The jury found that death was caused by hypostatic pneumonia and cardiac decompensation following an operation performed to relieve a hernia.

Witnesses at the inquest were Athena and Catherine Geanetos and Dr. Ellsworth Black. Pneumonia and heart failure came about four days after the operation. Mr. Geanetos had shown considerable improvement immediately after the operation and hopes were held for his recovery, they testified.

Members of the coroner's jury were H. D. Lavery, Glenn Large, C. O. Faust, James A. Stewart, A. C. Kltner, and Lee Mason.

Ayers Bank Suit Arguments Heard In Part Yesterday

Case Against Officials to Be Resumed Next Week; Dismissal Sought

Several Jacksonville attorneys were in Springfield yesterday when arguments were made in part on a motion to dismiss a suit against State Auditor Edward J. Barrett and State Treasurer John C. Martin, involving more than $2,000,000 and based on the crash of the Ayers National bank here in November, 1932.

Attorneys for the defendants occupied most of the day presenting their arguments before Judge Victor Hemphill, and late in the afternoon Attorney Orville N. Foreman, one of the several attorneys representing the plaintiffs addressed the court in opposing the motion to dismiss.

The arguments had reached probably the half-way point by evening, when Judge Hemphill continued the hearing until next Thursday.

The plaintiffs in the suit, including MacMurray College for Women, trustees of Illinois college, American Legion post No. 279, and the Baptist Women's union and the city of Jacksonville, have alleged the two defendants in their respective terms as state treasurer, illegally sold collateral securities given them to secure state deposits in the closed bank. The plaintiffs—38 in all—have asked the court to order the defendants to pay to a depository or receiver, to be appointed by the court, any sum which may be found owed by the defendants.

Attorneys for the defendants, Joseph A. Longbrun and A. J. Dennis of the attorney general's office, urged the dismissal of the suit on grounds that the action of Martin and Barrett in selling the collateral securities to reimburse the state for its lost deposits was within the law.

The defense attorneys declared that Martin and Barrett are without blame in the matter, even if the statute involved is unconstitutional, because they could not be held personally liable for performing their duties as set forth by statute.

It also was contended that it is not the duty of the state treasurer to interpret the statute but merely to obey its provisions.
